

Goss

by William Mylar

Em C C7 Em C C7
Em C C7
He don't go with Gossimer Latimer. He don't have to stay.
Em C C7
Goss said that somewhere a long time ago, but no one knows the day.
G D C G
One thing's for sure, Goss won't say anymore.
D C G A
And he's left Goss behind. The words were his and they were short.

Chorus 1

D F C Em C
Goss, I'll cut you down if you dare to come around.
G D C C7 Em C C7
Although I don't really want to. I don't really want to.

What do you think of his tune? He don't even care.
He will just keep right on playing it. Play it everywhere.
He just cares about what you feel.
But I wouldn't ask of him. The words are his and they would be short.

Chorus 2 (same chords as 1, just different lyrics)

Man, I'll cut you down if you dare to come around.
Although I don't really want to. I don't really want to.

He found a woman true and good to him. It made him very sure.
He played his tune and made good love to her. He wanted nothing more.
Then Gossman came around and made him lay his axe down.
And he swears to this day. The words were his and they were short.

Chorus 1

He finally made it to the tress, but was all by himself.
He kept his tune deep down inside of him. He had no one to tell.
He sang to the tundra and his voice rang clear for miles.
God, he missed his love. And the words were his and they were short.

Chorus 2

Men were sent to search and look for him. He wasn't hard to find.
He ended his song as they came down on him. He couldn't even hide.
He turned up and saw. It was Goss with tha law.
And he drew his axe. And he let it fall. But the axe fell short.
No I can't cut you down, 'cause you gave to me this sound.
Although you didn't really want to. I know you really didn't want to.
I know you really want to. (Repeat and fade, jamming on the Em/C/C7)
